Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Absolutely ridiculous to allow for an amendment of what is already controversial approval of 120 homes in an area that can't support it. Solar panels are the minimum you can do to ensure these new homes atleast hit sustainability objectives and the future homes standard asks for PV to be installed in new build homes. The electricity supply is already rather strained in this area and adding 120 homes to the area (which no one asked for or wanted in the first place) is going to put extreme strain on the local facilities.

Stop putting greed before common sense.

Kind regards
