Commenter Type:	Neighbour or general public
Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I am objecting on the grounds that the applicant is already in process of building a brick wall at the front of the property which does not match the planning application. The wall is already well over 1m high which should require planning permission. The wall is not complete and is already at head height. My objection is 1) The oppressive height of the wall across the road frontage leads to a change in character of the rural area and loss of visual amenity. The wall is visually intrusive, out of keeping with the character of the road, and harms local amenity. The red brick is also not in keeping with the property. The planning department should clamp down on this type of activity since the loss of hedgerow also erodes habitat for hedgerow wildlife. I have no objection to the plans for the building itself and I urge the applicant will reduce the wall to match the elevation in the application.

Kind regards
