Hi Stefan,

I have reviewed the application for the erection of a temporary rural worker's dwelling and the repositioning and enlargement of the existing sand school.

The proposal relates to an established equestrian holding and, based on the information submitted, is not considered likely to give rise to significant impacts affecting neighbouring residential amenity. Whilst the sand school would be enlarged and repositioned, the use remains consistent with the existing equestrian activities undertaken at the site, which we have had no complaints about, and no significant increase in environmental impacts is anticipated.

I therefore raise no objections to this application.

Kind regards,

Oliver
