Dear Katherine

I am emailing in response to Planning Application DM/26/0802 at Havelock Farm, Wakehurst Place, Selsfield Road, Ardingly RH17 6TN.

I was unwell at the time of receiving the Notification of Planning letter and missed the deadline to respond but in my meeting last year with Phil Chalk who was in the charge of the project I had been assured that the Court Yard Area would not be used for any type of gathering other than in relation to the fire exits. He had said he understood and appreciated my concern over the likelihood of nuisance from noise and a loss of privacy and so I felt my concern had been dealt with.

After hearing on Monday that Phil Chalk has retired and that there are some planned changes to the Application I was hoping that it would not be too late for you to consider my concerns.

My property, Wakehurst Farmhouse, Wakehurst Place, Selsfield Road, Ardingly RH17 6TN adjoins the Bovey of the farm buildings and our boundary wall adjoins the Courtyard with our lounge and main bedroom (the later of which overlooks it) being less than 6 metres from it.

I am very concerned about the impact of noise from the use of the courtyard. This has always been a quiet area but having offices means a larger number of people with conversation that tends to be louder and the possibility of larger gatherings (either private or public). We are also aware that employees are likely to be unaware that this is a residential property and less likely to be considerate compared to the previous residential residents.

The original sash windows of my property do not provide sound proofing which makes the nuisance from noise a big issue inside as well as out. We also enter our property via the back door adjacent to the courtyard which also impacts our privacy.

I hope you will consider these concerns in relation to the application.

Yours sincerely
