Good afternoon Chris

I have been trying to call you to advise you that I would like to visit the above property this afternoon. Unfortunately the call will not connect.

I have copied your client into this email, so hopefully the message will arrive before I leave the office for the visit.

Also on reviewing the details that I can see have been saved on file I seem to be missing supporting details of the proposed alternative materials.

Please can these details be provided for my consideration?

Regards

Anna
