

The greenhouse is situated on the north side of a long, narrow plot on a brick plinth floor approximately 5 metres long by 3 metres wide, two thirds of the way down the garden, approximately 15 metres from the twitten that run North-South along the back of the High Street gardens.

The Victorian style greenhouse is in keeping with the conservation area and is a robust cream enamelled metal construction with interesting finial features atop the roof.

The greenhouse measures approx.. 2.5 metres above ground level and is in line with the height of the greenhouse at 84 High Street approx. 10 metres to the North.

The greenhouse provides a significant enhancement to the site and makes use of the narrow site at that point in the length of the garden.
