Reasons for comment:

Comments: Dear Susan,

I am writing as a homeowner who is directly affected by the change of use to the brickworks, and although I understand the need for housing, however, I seriously object to the changes in the planning application to allow the project to avoid environmental impact of allowing them to go ahead without solar panels. It is standard to fit solar panels on houses now, and the reasons are obvious with the impact of an unstable political world where our resources are challenged and we need to be conscious of the financial impact on those who will buy those houses and on the environmental impact on future generations. You have a duty to those of us who already live here, the impact of 108 homes on our doorstep is huge, the roads and facilities here are limited. Making it cheaper for the builders who will benefit from profit and then walk away is being on the wrong side of the people you represent. There are too many flaws in this plan already, how many more will you allow to slip through? We, as a community, are fed up. Please be responsible and keep the builders to the plan.

Kind regards
