Reasons for comment:

Comments: Park Centre was left to the people of Burgess Hill for their use. It was a youth club etc in the late 1950s/1960s I should know because I attended. There was a coffee bar, snooker tables and we had groups playing occasionally/disco many things to entertain the youth of Burgess Hill. There was never any complaints from local residents or any trouble that I am aware of, can't understand why anyone would object to the property being used for this reason, if they did they are usually the type that would complain about the church bells! It gives the young people of Burgess Hill a meeting point to see friends, discuss any problems they have and generally enjoy themselves rather than sitting on their phones at home or worse.

I rest my case.

Kind regards
