Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I object as we don't need yet another estate in CD. There's just recently been 2 estates build adjoining that land. Two nice quite cul de save, both of which me and my hubby would have lived to live in, have been permanently spoilt. Does nobody care about those residents? Also, that bit if Woodlands has already been effected by one estate, another one should not be coming through their road.

I don't think there should be houses there at all. If there are the acces should be using the current access for that land from Sandhill or through the new Acorn close estate. Better still no houses or just 2 or 3 big houses accessed from the private road.

There is no infrastructure to support more resident's. The roads are a mess from the last development-we have to drive up Kiln road all the time and there are always potholes. We don't have enough GP'S or health staff to support current demands, let alone more. We don't even have an open pub.

This used to be a quiet village with lots of wildlife. Now it seems to be a permanent building site without any care for wildlife and wildlife corridors.

Affordable housing isn't affordable for a lot of residents that live and work in the local area and don't have fat salaries.

Kind regards
