Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I live in a nearby town but visit Ansty regularly because I have friends in the village and enjoy spending time there. From my point of view the proposed development seems quite modest and well positioned. Rather than creating a large new housing area, it appears to add a few homes next to an existing development. That kind of gradual growth often feels far more in keeping with villages and helps them change slowly rather than all at once.

Kind regards
