

Susan Dubberley

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: 16 September 2026 15:45
To: Susan Dubberley

[REDACTED]

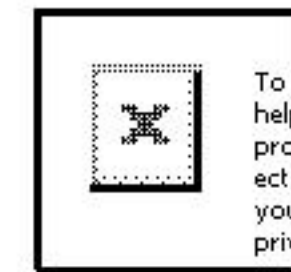

College Lane DM/26/2178

Inbox

[REDACTED]

to susan.dubberley

To the planning officer re College Lane Hurstpierpoint ref DM/26/2178

Dear Planning Officer

I am objecting once again to the latest attempt at Planning Permission for the above site. that's on the bend halfway between Wickham hill and the College down college Lane.

It seems to me that this site is yet another try-on to get permission for planning before you have to lock the door. We do not have the infrastructure for more development down College Lane. This includes the increase in cars and lorries and buses and coaches blocking the lane. No pavements. Victorian houses built on a bank 5 feet plus above the road with access straight onto the road (creating a fatality waiting to happen). .

I am extremely concerned that Mid Sussex Council is being led at the moment by a irrational panic acceptance of planning permission with big building firms who are with their determination to build in the South east swamping Hurstpierpoint Village

Please please please get a grip.

Try driving down College Lane you will need to take a sandwich - it's now usually blocked in rush hour or when the trebled College students are coming in or out. or when other through roads are blocked (Malt House Lane endless water blockages.

In College Lane there are well over 20 signs asking that people should write and complain on over housing.

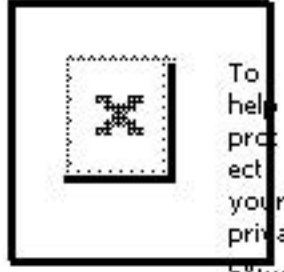

Try driving down College Lane there are well over 20 signs asking that people should write and complain. You might try reading the Daily Mail. we are being swamped with New builds. there is no need to build here.

You are putting the new MP under incredible pressure to get the message over.that the South east is not where the sites for new housing are having to open up..

I am also very concerned by the totally inadequate attempts by Mid Sussex to allow the public an opportunity to see what's going on here. It is now entirely up to alert members of the public to form pressure groups with very little help from MSDC.

In the less populated Malt house lane developments which will create an avalanche of traffic we see Vista plans for Malthouse lane which purposely do not mark Jane murray way Malt House Lane or Locks Manor drive. it is not clear where the Houses will be. Is this intentional
My wife and I are in our 80s having lived just north of the narrow bit of college Lane for over 54 years. Maybe you should start looking more carefully at the needs of the 'grey' electorate. They can display banners too.
yours sincerely

[Redacted signature]

[Redacted content]

