| Comments:            | The fields are used by locals for exercise, nature spotting, and dog walking, and my in-laws had been doing the same for over 40 years (even when livestock still grazed there). The bike track in the woods is a brilliant resource for local kids too. My main question is what this would mean for already-stretched local infrastructure - water, schools, GPs, roads. |

Kind regards
