Reasons for comment:
Comments:	West Hoathly Rd is a very narrow and dangerous road for traffic and brave pedestrians (where a footpath exists, it is very narrow). In recent weeks, a vehicle ended up in the front garden of a house on the corner of Stockwell Rd and Dunnings Rd. From personal experience sitting in the Dunnings Mill front garden, traffic is nearly always speeding in both directions. Stockwell Rd is already a "rat run" to and from West Hoathly Rd and additional traffic would be unwelcome in my opinion.

Also, the water supply (ie pipework) in this area has come under severe criticism this month as we were without running water for several days. I imagine a new development would put extra strain on supply and pressure.

Kind regards
