Commenter Type:	Neighbour or general public
Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	When the initial planning consent was granted in 2007 to build two properties on the site of the previous farm buildings - One of the key conditions attached was that permission for a third building on the site should never be granted to protect the curtilage of the listed building. This was upheld on appeal by the planning inspector after another application was submitted in 2011 and again in 2015. Therefore planning permission should be refused

Kind regards
