Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This development is being called a mobile cabin does that mean it has wheels and can be moved ? If so how do they intend to lift into their garden. A crane would have to lift it over the house and extend it into the garden that would need a large crane and the complete closure of the A22 as that is where the house is located. How big is this structure ? What is the purpose and intended use of the structure? How do they intend to get power into the structure again if the intent is to lay a cable from the national grid it would involve digging up the A22 and a road closure same with gas or are they intending to use propane this in itself is dangerous in a small area surrounded by residential homes and gardens. The water supply in this area is very poor how do they intend getting drinking water into the structure. Number 19 already has a very large loft conversion with a large windows that over look my garden so no privacy, this will be even further eroded by the windows in the structure. The garden at number 19 is not big enough to accommodate this mobile structure so the pressure of the infrastructure of the houses around number 19 will not be able to cope with the extra pressure. I totally object to this planning application on the grounds that it is not needed and will not fit into the surroundings of the gardens and current houses and will drastically change ever bodies view in their garden. If the intended use of the property is for some to live in where do they intend to park their car, there is no parking available at number 19.

Kind regards
