Reasons for comment:

Comments: I would like to approve the upvc windows however I live in one of the middle terrace houses, it is already quite dark in my living room due to having only the back door and adjacent windows for light, I do not have any other windows in my living room. If the back door were to have a solid panel at the bottom this would cut my light in half effectively. I would like to have the glass for the whole door as this gives me maximum light that I could possibly have or I would be able to have. Surely you need to replace like for like and I have a glazed door with glazing bars all over at the moment so would appreciate the same.

Kind regards
