

 Notes

29 June 2025 at 19:09

There are four sycamores close together at the rear of our property garden on the boundary line. They are sadly hollowed out and covered in ivy. They are very tall and potentially pose a hazard to our next door neighbours buildings should they come down

