Reasons for comment:
Comments:	There are enough houses out there already we do not need more ,all the derelict ,empty, rundown properties need to be brought back into housing stock and made fit for people to live in and not left to rot . Why do we have to have new ones built especially on community fields ,where are people supposed to relax,exercise and to just be ,no wonder we have so much mental health issues,we all want children off screens what are they going to do ??.. Nowhere left for them to play.

I've not mentioned the wild life, trees, plants,
Will the government, councils and rich builders be happy when there's nothing left apart from House's
With no one left to live in them,
What a sad state of affairs
Please think about your community before money

Kind regards
