When measuring houses and bungalows we measure all the area covered within the external walls, excluding:

- Open balconies
- Covered ways and external passages
- Unconverted loft areas
- Attached and integral garages
- Washhouses and fuel stores/coal bunkers
- Conservatories and porches

We exclude internal areas with a head height of below 1.5m, other than areas under stairs. To maintain consistency, we add a notional wall thickness to each dimension before calculating the areas. For example, a chalet bungalow or loft conversions with sloping ceilings.
