Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

- ☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

RE: Repave the front drive and widen the gate opening in front boundary wall.

At: 58 Park Road Burgess Hill RH15 8ET

Ref: DM/25/1201

Thank you for your enquiry received 8th May.

From looking at the planning history of the property, permitted development rights appear to be intact. The property is located within the St Johns Conservation Area.

In my informal opinion, repaving the front driveway would not require planning permission provided it meets the following criteria:

Where the hard surface would be situated on land between a wall forming the principal elevation of the dwelling house and a highway and the ground covered by the hard surface, or the area of hard surface replaced exceeds 5 square metres, either the hard surface must be made of porous materials or provision is made to direct run-off water from the hard surface to a permeable or porous area within the curtilage of the dwellinghouse.

In my informal opinion, removing part of the wall to widen the entranceway could be done as permitted development. However, the relevant restrictions of permitted development with regard to fences and walls are the following:

The height of any gate, wall or fence erected or constructed adjacent to a highway used by vehicular traffic would, after the carrying out of the development, cannot exceed 1 metre in height.

the height of any gate, fence, wall or other means of enclosure maintained, improved or altered cannot, as a result of the development, exceed its former height or the 1 metre restriction, whichever is the greater.

Without knowing the exact height of the existing wall, I cannot say for definite, however the pier looks to exceed 1 metre in height. Therefore, to reinstate the pier on the end of the wall of the widened driveway would exceed 1 metre and the height of the existing wall at that part and therefore require planning permission.

More information about submitting a householder planning application can be found on our website using the link below under Application form 1:

Apply for Planning Permission - Mid Sussex District Council

Additionally if you were to widen the dropped kerb, no planning permission is required as the road is not a classified road, however a license from West Sussex County Council Highways is required. More information can be found using the below link:

Dropped kerbs (or vehicle crossovers) for driveways - West Sussex County Council

The above represents my informal view only based on the information contained in your enquiry. Should you require a formal determination as to whether planning permission is required for your proposal then it is open to you to make an application to this authority for a Certificate of Lawful Development, under Section 191/192 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, as amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991.

I hope the above is of use to you.

Kind regards

Peter

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
