Comments Details

Comments:	The committee have no objection in principle to development of the site into residential units, but feel the current design should be refused for the following reasons: • Overdevelopment – DP26 Character & Design DP27 Dwelling space standards - Some of the units are small and lacking in sufficient natural light. • There is no provision in the plans for electric car charging • There is no provision for visitor car parking in an area of Hassocks already under pressure from on street parking.
