Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I fully support this listed building application. When the applicant bought the property, it was in a very poor condition. Since then, they've invested significantly in restoring the building to an exceptionally high standard. The work has been carried out sensitively, with great care taken to preserve and enhance the character of the Listed Building both inside and out. The materials used are entirely appropriate for both the building and the surrounding Conservation Area. The landscaping and rear alterations have further improved the property's setting. Having seen the interior, I can say it's exceptional, with so many period features beautifully retained. I love it-this is exactly the kind of high-quality restoration we should be encouraging.

Kind regards
