Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I support the new 1800mm high close-board fence, but I would ask that something is done to the existing native species hedgerow which grows rapidly and regularly blocks the pavement on London Lane. Recently, the growth was so great that it blocked the pavement, forcing pedestrians into the road (or to use the opposite pavement and then cross the road at the dangerous and busy junction with the High Street/London Road). Personally, I'd like to see the existing hedge removed entirely and a new hedge planted at least 500mm further back from the pavement edge, with the remaining 500mm strip planted as grass. This would then make this pavement useable throughout the year.

Kind regards
