Reasons for comment:
Comments:	From a personal standpoint my family love to wander around these fields picking blackberries, running around and do not want to lose that. The ecosystem, the animals that call those fields home. All lost. But also the infrastructure. The primary schools in Lindfield are already oversubscribed, the doctors is oversubscribed, you can't get an NHS dentist and probably the most worrying Ardingly reservoir nearly ran out of water last year. With more severe weather events predicted where is the water going to come from to supply new housing.

We need a new reservoir to be built first before new housing.

Just because Crawley & Brighton are not fulfilling their house quota doesn't mean we should bend over backwards to accommodate.

Kind regards
