Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I feel that Haywards Heath has reached a point of saturation as regards housing, with precious little care or consideration for current residents enjoyment of living in this town. Wickham Fields represents an important green area which forms an important part of our enjoyment of this area and one which we should want to preserve for now and future generations. I remain a resident of this area having been born in the 1960s in Penland Road. Recently developments have sprung up all over the town reducing such previous green areas.

Kind regards
