Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Massive serious consideration needs to be made around restrictions on this path, on the use of vehicles. If making it more accessible, this will no doubt increase different vehicle types using this area, especially with bike track next to it. Also a massive concern following the recent encampment by travellers to the nearby area. If goes ahead there will need to be things put in place, such as wooden bollards and other restrictions, to stop all vehicles using this newly pathed area. If it is designed for pedestrians then this is a good idea, but huge concern is around vehicles and the danger and noise disruption that will bring
