No it doesn't, if anything it raises more issues.

For the avoidance of doubt can the applicant clarify how demolition movements are routed? The wheel washing section still suggests that would be on Issacs Lane to which the previous items raised would need including.

Also

The compound should be shown on the plan provided rather than an arrow pointing off the drawing.

No issue of construction vehicles being routed through the phase to the south, but what then is the purpose of the haul road north of the school (which remains on the plan)?

EXTERNAL

Good morning Stephen,

Following on from your comments I have received the attached revised CMP.

Please can you advise if this is now sufficient to discharge the condition.

Many thanks

Joe
