North – Adjoining semi with an alternative shade of render to the walls. Small shed outbuilding to the front garden amenity space. Boundary planting used to screen the dwelling from the roadside.

South – Neighbouring detached outbuilding with an old stable block appearance. Slight protrusion from the host dwellings building line.

East – Existing host dwelling set back from the roadside by a low brick built boundary wall. Some limited garden amenity space contained to the rear.

West – Across the road there appears to be a detached outbuilding of some age which shows signs of dilapidation.

Streetscene – A number of residential dwellings from various historic periods positioned to either side of the road with a range of external materials and finishes.
