Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I would like to raise my objection once again to this resubmitted planning application, having previously been rejected. My reasons for these objections remain unchanged as there appear to have been no substantial changes made to the original rejected proposal. A 5 pitch mobile home site would be entirely out of character to properties along the road and around this area, all of which are single detached permanent residencies. I am aware that sewage and water drainage facilities are extremely limited in this location with a past history of flooding also which I believe is likely to deteriorate further in the future placing even more demands on the already overstretched capability. I suspect this aspect will be raised more specifically by the two adjacent property owners. The site and facilities are, in my opinion, extremely small to accommodate five separate dwellings, and I cannot see how the surrounding infrastructure would cope with such a development.

Kind regards
