Comments Details

Commenter Type:	Neighbour or general public
Stance:	Customer made comments in support of the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Families should have the opportunity to make full and reasonable use of the space within their homes in a way that reflects their individual needs and living arrangements. Limiting this feels unnecessary and restrictive. In addition, concerns around increased parking pressure do not appear to be substantiated in this case. As a resident living opposite Barnfield, I have regular, direct visibility of the area and have not observed it to be overcrowded with vehicles or experiencing any parking issues. On a day-to-day basis, parking appears to be well managed and proportionate to the number of properties.

It is therefore difficult to justify this objection on the grounds presented, as there is no clear, observable impact on the surrounding environment or local residents.

Kind regards
