Reasons for comment:
Comments:	We strongly object to the proposed industrial installation on land which is a designated amenity site. it will not only be an eyesore but quite possibly a noise nuisance as all such electrical equipment generally emits a humming sound 24/7. Furthermore 100ft pylon will be a blot on the landscape of an otherwise natural piece of land that is by in large uncultivated and enjoyed by many local residents and dog walkers. We have lived adjacent to the site for over 45 years and on numerous occasions have been told that the land will never be developed commercially by various local local officials and councillors. Is this the thin end of the wedge? Is further development possible or probable?

This project has obviously been planned for some considerable time without consultation with any local residents who are only now becoming aware of the situation. Please do not allow this to continue.

Kind regards
