Description

Please describe details of the proposed development or works including any change of use

Planning Application for Stable Block for Horses for Breeding at Horsted Keynes, Mid Sussex

This application seeks planning permission for the construction of a new stable block on agricultural land within the parish of Horsted Keynes, Mid Sussex District Council. The development is intended to support equine breeding and management activities, contributing to the local rural economy and sustainable land use.

Proposal Details:

The proposed stable complex will comprise four stables arranged within the building, including:

- One stable designated for male horses (stallion or gelding)
- Two stables for mares
- One stable reserved for emergencies or veterinary purposes

The stable block will be constructed using sustainable materials, with a traditional pitched roof to integrate with the rural landscape. The design purposefully excludes ancillary rooms, tack rooms, or other storage facilities, focusing solely on the essential stabling needs.

Building Materials:

The stable building will be constructed using locally sourced timber from Balcombe Saw Mill, ensuring sustainable and environmentally responsible materials. The roof will be finished with box profile green sheeting, chosen to blend seamlessly with the surrounding trees and landscape, helping the structure integrate harmoniously into the rural setting.

Grazing Area:

Adjacent to the stable block, there will be a designated grazing area, providing sufficient pasture for the horses. The grazing land will be managed in accordance with best practice to ensure land health and ecological sustainability.

Change of Land Use:

The land will undergo a change from its current classification as agricultural (Class E(g)) to a mixed-use area supporting both grazing and the stable facilities, aligning with policies promoting rural enterprise and agricultural diversification.

Policy Context and Justification:

The development aligns with Mid Sussex District Council's policies, including:

- Policy SD4 (Sustainable Rural Economy): Supporting rural enterprise and diversification.
- Policy DP10 (Design and Layout): Ensuring the stable block's design respects the rural setting and landscape.
- Policy DP11 (Landscape and Environment): Incorporating landscaping measures to minimize visual impact and protect the local landscape character.
- Policy DP17 (Agricultural and Equine Development): Facilitating appropriate development of equine facilities on suitable rural land.

Environmental and Access Measures:

Access to the site will utilize existing agricultural tracks to minimize disruption. Surface water runoff will be managed via sustainable collection systems. The manure, will be stored in accordance with environmental safeguards. No ancillary or tack rooms are proposed, simplifying the development and reducing the footprint

Existing Use

Please describe the current use of the site

The existing use of the site has historically been agricultural, primarily for the production of hay and silage. It has also served as a workshop for machinery repairs, as well as storage for farming equipment and essential tools. On rare occasions, the land has been used to allow sheep to graze, supporting diverse agricultural activities in line with rural land management practices

My land is not vacant. It has an active or historical use for agricultural activities, machinery storage, workshop functions, and occasional grazing. Therefore, it would be considered as land with existing or past agricultural and operational use rather than vacant land.

Is the site currently vacant?

Biodiversity and Geological Conservation

Is there a reasonable likelihood of the following being affected adversely or conserved and enhanced within the application site, or on land adjacent to or near the application site?

To assist in answering this question correctly, please refer to the help text which provides guidance on determining if any important biodiversity or geological conservation features may be present or nearby; and whether they are likely to be affected by the proposals.

a) Protected and priority species

- ☐ Yes, on the development site
☐ Yes, on land adjacent to or near the proposed development
☒ No

b) Designated sites, important habitats or other biodiversity features

- ☐ Yes, on the development site
☐ Yes, on land adjacent to or near the proposed development
☒ No

c) Features of geological conservation importance

- ☐ Yes, on the development site
☐ Yes, on land adjacent to or near the proposed development

Supporting information requirements

Where a development proposal is likely to affect features of biodiversity or geological conservation interest, you will need to submit, with the application, sufficient information and assessments to allow the local planning authority to determine the proposal.

Failure to submit all information required will result in your application being deemed invalid. It will not be considered valid until all information required by the local planning authority has been submitted.

Your local planning authority will be able to advise on the content of any assessments that may be required.

Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Find out more about biodiversity net gain, and access digital tools from our partners that can help determine if you are exempt, or produce the biodiversity metric information required.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 \(as amended\)) would apply?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

You can use our partner's free online tool to determine if you are exempt and to produce detailed reasons

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:
Over 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:
The proposed development involves the construction of stables and the planting of approximately 700 meters of hedging to create natural corridors for wildlife. These measures are designed primarily to preserve and enhance existing natural features rather than significantly alter or intensify land use. Given the nature and scale of the development, and considering that the project aims to improve the habitat connectivity and biodiversity value of the site through the planting of native hedgerows, it is considered that the proposal will result in a neutral or positive impact on biodiversity without the need for additional biodiversity net gain measures. Furthermore, the existing land is largely rural and already supports a natural environment suitable for wildlife. The planting of hedges will serve to reinforce existing ecological networks, promote habitat connectivity, and support local biodiversity. Therefore, it is justified that Biodiversity Net Gain does not apply in this instance, as the proposed measures are intended to maintain and enhance existing ecological features rather than cause a net loss, and the development aligns with biodiversity enhancement objectives

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.
