Reasons for comment:

Comments: Works to no.5 Beacon Rise have significantly improved access to Beacon Rise, which was become almost impossible given the rise of cars being parked half on/half off the road. The lack of parking off road often meant pavements were blocked, forcing people out into the road when walking. Having more off road parking helps with this problem, not only making the space safer but also improving access.

The design of the hard standing is also pleasant and ties in with the design of the whole development. The addition of pots and greenery to soften the outlook has definitely aided this.

In summary, I would support this change, primarily on the basis of it creating a safer space for residents, providing access for ambulances or fire engines, which would struggle with the excess of cars parked on the street, and for keeping pavements clear so pedestrians do not have to walk in the road.

Kind regards
