

- Study area
- X Reptile refugia
- Static bat detector

|                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                       |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Sam Watson Ecology45 Bull StreetAstonBamptonOX18 2DT Samwatsonecology@gmail.com07971 555192 |  |
| Project - Land at Old Vicarage Field, Turners Hill                                                                                 |                                                                                       |
| Client - Elviva Homes Eastern                                                                                                      |                                                                                       |
| Title - 2020 reptile survey                                                                                                        |                                                                                       |
| Date - April 25                                                                                                                    | Drawing - 0006-3004-1                                                                 |
| Rev -                                                                                                                              |                                                                                       |