Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The tree is a healthy tree and is not showing signs of disease. It shows no signs of being in danger of falling onto nearby structures. It should be considered that the tree appears to be supporting a perimeter wall that would be subject to collapse if the tree is removed and therefore cause landslide By removing the tree it would also take away our privacy. Due to our raised garden should the tree be removed we would be eye level with the rear 1st floor windows of the subject property which would prevent us from using the garden for relaxation .

Wildlife frequently can be seen using the tree

Kind regards
