Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This object would tower over the area and be a monstrous blight. When entering my close it would be the first thing I would see in the sky over my house. The area is a green lung and is cherished by Worlds End and the surrounding area.

This is not the place for a gigantic monstrosity, place it somewhere in an industrial setting where it will not be an eyesore and severely impact the lives of the local populace. Others will be more technical in their objections, I say it is an unwanted bloody eyesore.

Terry Reilly.
