Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I have lived in the area since 2006 and have always walked through Wickham Fields on local walks to Ardingly Reservoir or through to Lindfield. For the last 6 years or so, as I have worked from home more often, I have used the walk across Wickham Fields virtually daily. When a member of my family was ill for an extended period of time, these daily walks were essential for my wellbeing and to help me keep going. Losing this open public space would be devastating for me personally and for the local area. There is no equivalent area providing this access to the local countryside without using a car.

Kind regards
