Reasons for comment:

Comments: My husband and I have lived in the area for 40 years and have seen the area change considerably from fairly quiet roads to increasingly busy with cars travelling at high speeds on the Turners Hill road. More houses means more cars, potentially travelling at high speeds and more accidents and possible deaths. We moved from Carshalton because of traffic issues and the problem is now following us.

One house equals at least one or two cars and more when there are teenagers who pass their test.

The other issue is access to doctors and schools. We are pensioners and find it extremely difficult to get a doctors appointment now. Surely the developers should ensure there is access to these services BEFORE being given permission to build.

The roads are needing constant repair and so it goes on. Who are the winners!!!!

The above applies to the following planning applications:
DM/25/0014 DM/25/0016 DEM/25/0017

Kind regards
