Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The reason why myself and my wife will be objecting is because it will right on view from my back garden and who really wants something like that . And if I was to try and sell my property who's going to buy it with a 23 meter monstrosity in view absolutely what a wrong thing to put close to a housing development and all the wild life that would be affected by this . We have so much wild life around wrong destination i don't want this in view of my property as I really think that it would lower the price of mine and other property's close to it no way I want it here

Kind regards
