Dear Anna .

Thank you i ll pass the letter on

As part of the draft processes for every job we assess if there are shared drains that could impact the proposal .Often we find that we are designing the extensions around these issues . We usually get the client to carry out a cctv survey this enables us not having to go back through any planning processes in most cases .

This job all the drains run to the front and client is fully aware of the drain runs .

Regards
Christopher Jones
