Dear Caroline

In relation to the front garden works at this property.

The boundary front wall is completely out of keeping to the close. It's ruined the whole look of our well kept close. We at the bottom of the close have been particularly affected. It's an absolute eye sore and when it gets painted yellow like the rest of the property it will be even worst. I've attached photos of our view now from our front bedroom windows, which has gone from a pretty green close to what only can be described as looking like a skate park. We have dealt with nearly 4 years of building work to the property to now been left with this.

If the wall had been set back a couple of foot and green borders planted in front of it at least we would have had some coverage but the wall is set right on footpath.

We have problems with flooding at the bottom of the close with heavy rain fall and now with all the concrete and masonry replacing hedges etc the problem will increase.

The whole front garden has been raised causing it to stand out.

Many Thanks
