Please, we are consulting and still investigating options of plants and we will speak to a gardener for suggestions, in case the above are not appropriate, so this is based on what we have been able to look up. All we will base it on is that we offset the fencing to around 0.4cm from the path and will aim for 1 metre high with planting (at maturity). If we need to adjust the fence line slightly we will ensure this is set back into our garden rather than path side, so max we will set back is 0.4cm - hope that makes sense. Also please note many of the plants reach their ultimate height at maturity so will need time to grow. We will try and purchase mature plants where we can however this may not always be possible.

Please let us know if this will suffice or if there is anything additional that you require.

With kind regards
Duncan & Shontell Silvester
