Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The newsagents run by Mr and Mrs Amin have been a lifeline for the village for a number of years. Their dedication to the community, especially during the pandemic and the loss of the post office and the spar has been exemplary. For those senior members of the community, and those of us who live a little way out , home deliveries, freely offered, have truly been an enormous benefit.

We really need these village 'hero's' to be able to improve their business, the extension to the property would have no visual impact from the high street, and to have the possibility of a post office again would be a tremendous benefit, and as far as we can see, no downsides.

We urge you to consider the positive impact that having a post office again would have for us all, we don't want to loose another shop, and more importantly, the services and kindnesses that this community focused family provide.

Kind regards

Richard and Marilyn Cuss
