Reasons for comment:
Comments:	On balance, I support the application for Handcross Newsagents to extend their living accommodation and business premises. They provide services not available elsewhere in the village and deserve the opportunity to further flourish. I accept that there will be some short-term noise (I am a near neighbour and work at home) and disruptions whilst construction is underway but I cannot in good conscience object to a hard-working family seeking to improve their living and working situation.

In the longer term, the High Street 'is what it is' - a thoroughfare for most, and an occasional (and very short-term) stopping off point for motorists visiting ALL of the shops therein. As such, noise, disturbance, highway safety etc are likely to remain at levels similar to current ones if the (invisible from the High Street) building works progress.

Kind regards
