Reasons for comment:
Comments:	We live right opposite McDonald's and already encounter high noise levels during opening hours & earlier because of the delivery lorries unloading. On the original planning agenda when McDonald's was built, it was decided that deliveries should not take place before or after opening hours. This is not the case as they already crash about with crates early in the morning. Cars also park in the car park next to McDonald's, play loud music or doing wheelies and skids. We also notice a lot of rubbish in our garden. This was supposed to be cleared daily but it isn't. On top of that, the congestion of vehicles around the roundabout causes all sorts of issues. Blocked roads, cars sitting on the crossing, tooting horns and road rage. It is not necessary to extend these hours. It will impact the neighbours by creating more noise & more rubbish.

Kind regards
