Biodiversity net gain

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Details of the pre-application advice received

A two-storey extension should not exceed the existing ridge height and allow the original dwelling to remain as the main element or should be read in direct connection with it. Whilst a pitched roof design would not be wholly unacceptable, this should run in connection with the existing pitch rather than creating an 'L' shape. There may be scope for a first-floor extension above the single storey (east) flat roof element as an alternative scheme. This would allow for the existing footprint to be used whilst incorporating further accommodation at first floor level. It is encouraged that any future proposal should use matching external materials in order to allow the extension to embed in with the existing.

It is also noted that concerns were raised under 12/02836/FUL with regard to the proposed sense of overlooking towards the properties at Selby Court to the south which are contained to a lower topographical level than the application site. Whilst this previous proposal was for a replacement chalet bungalow on site, a proposed extension would be required to demonstrate that no significantly adverse overlooking would be incurred. The current proposal indicates that a Juliet balcony would be added to the southern elevation at first floor level. This feature could give rise to an adverse impact with regard to overlooking should the existing boundary hedge be removed and therefore is not viewed favourably.

Accordingly, it is considered that the current proposal would require some revisions before it could be supported at the planning application stage. Both in design and amenity terms the current scheme is considered to inflict harm with regard to its lack of subservience and potential overlooking impact to the south.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
