

Caroline Grist

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: 11 August 2026 18:56
To: Caroline Grist
Subject: 38 Savill Road evidence of inappropriate construction DM/26/1265

Dear Caroline,

Please find supporting images of the overbearing nature and incongruous appearance of the construction that is now at 38 Savill Road in relation to retrospective planning application DM/26/1265.

Outlook from our bedroom window (the only room at the front of 36 with clear glass) is overbearing with reduced light due to the black cladding and box like construction with flat roof. The limited mitigation from the willow tree will vanish during Autumn, Winter and early Spring.

The image below shows how the height of the construction now casts an overbearing shadow over our front garden, diminishing the outlook and light levels to the only window on the ground floor.

The rear extension is overbearing and casts a substantial shadow over the house and garden at 36 due to the excessive height of the building and the fact it aligns with the guttering, rather than the rear wall of 36. The enlarged height window means neighbouring gardens beyond 36 and 40 can be viewed much more readily from 38. This is intrusive. The extension dominates the original dwelling and is not constructed from materials used for the original dwelling. The construction is strongly influenced by the design of commercial buildings even though Savill Road is a semi-rural residential area.

The street scene is disrupted with an extension totally out of keeping with the rest of Savill Road. Viewed from this perspective the extension as constructed dominates the original dwelling, which is now unrecognisable.

From the other side the street scene again is disrupted. As soon as the leaves fall, the mitigation provided by the trees and shrubs will disappear. Again, the original dwelling is unrecognisable.

Please consider the as constructed development of 38 Savill Road as part of the retrospective planning application process.

Kind regards

36 Savill Road