Reasons for comment:

Comments:	In principle I would approve of the development here with some alterations. The current proposal at 4 stories high and 26 flats is simply too much of an overdevelopment for this site and significantly taller than any of the other buildings on the high street. Removing one of the floors would bring it down to a more appropriate height and the reduction in flats would help reduce the parking requirements, thereby freeing up more of the ground floor to increase the size of the commercial unit/s.
