Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I'm in my mid 40s with a family of four and have always had a strong connection to Ansty. I used to have extended family living on Cuckfield Road and spent a lot of time around the village growing up, including time on the farm there. I also played for Ansty football club for a number of years, so the village has always meant a lot to me. One thing I've always noticed though is how difficult it is to actually buy into the village. There just never seem to be many properties available, especially ones that would suit families. Because of that I think new homes are important if villages like Ansty are going to continue to thrive and give people with connections to the area a chance to live there.

From what I can see this site seems like a logical place for development as it's basically an extension of housing that's already there. It also looks like a good amount of open space has been included in the plans which is really positive. Overall I think this would be a good addition to the village and I very much hope the application is approved.

Kind regards
