Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This building and garden was in appalling condition for a long time before the current owners purchased it. The front of the house was unsightly and in need of renovation and redecorating. The garden was uncared for and full of old sheds and a terrible waste of the extensive outside space. I have seen both the exterior and interiors of the renovations. I love what they have done to the house and garden. Great care has obviously been taken to use materials throughout the house and garden which are sympathetic to the wonderful old character of the Listed Building.

They have melded the new and old to create a truly beautiful home. It is clear they have spent a huge amount of time and care and financial investment restoring Marlow House.

The work at the rear of the property and garden have made a spectacular difference to the aspect of the house without any harmful impact on the neighbours and surrounding area.

Kind regards
